Tenure-track Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor in International Relations

This advertisement is part of the search announced by the advertisement of the below mentioned posts in January 2020. Those who have applied to the earlier notice need not do so again.

The Department of International Relations at Ashoka University invites applications for three open rank positions (Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Professor) in International Relations. The selected candidates are expected to join at the beginning of Monsoon semester 2021.

Scholars should hold a doctorate in Political Science or International Relations or History with a focus on international and global history (or clear evidence that the completion of such a doctorate is imminent). All candidates will be required to demonstrate:

- (a) Evidence of ability to engage in internationally recognized research in International Relations, with publications and participation in scholarly activity commensurate with stage of career.
- (b) Evidence of ability to teach International Relations, including general survey courses outside of their areas of specialization.
- (c) Evidence of grants and funds that a candidate might have applied for (please mention both successful and unsuccessful research bids).
- (d) Ability to play an effective and collegial role in the work of the department.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. It offers internationally competitive terms and conditions. The teaching load is comparable to the top universities in the world, and the University supports research in various ways. Ashoka University strongly encourages applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants should submit, among other things, a cover letter of not more than 750 words. The closing date for applications is 1 November 2020.
